

A Big Thanks . . .

....on behalf of the staff at Gualala Arts
YOU ARE INVITED!

The Gualala Arts staff wants to throw a party for ALL the volunteers over the past 10 years!

4 course strolling meal

We will also be announcing the volunteer of the year at 6pm!

NO we are not asking you to volunteer, we (the dedicated staff) are going to do all the work!!!!

Shocking I know....but it is the least we can do for all of you!

So mark your calendar and spread the word to anyone who has volunteered for Gualala Arts over the past 10 years.

Yes, we understand it could be hundreds!!!

SOOOOO...

We hope you can join us!

WHEN

El Día de los Muertos

El Día de los Muertos will be celebrated at Gualala Arts Center on Sunday, November 2 from 3:00 to 7:00 p.m. Listen to a strolling Mariachi Band while feasting on traditional Mexican food and drinks available for purchase. Enjoy all the color and pageantry of our own local dancers. Rejoice in remembering the departed with song, dance and art.

Artists Insight:

A word of advice: don't paint too much direct from nature. Art is an abstraction! Study nature. Then brood on it and think more of the creation which will result, which is the only way to ascend towards God - to create like our Divine Master.

Paul Gauguin, 1888

From: "Gauguin 48 Colour Plates 6 Black and White Illustrations", by Ronald Alley, Spring Art Books 1961
This book is available at the Gualala Arts Library, along with other artist's biographies, how to books, videos and more.
