Soledad Leonicio

The Gualala Arts Global Harmony Artists-in-Residence program is thrilled to welcome Chilean artists Pablo McClure and Soledad Leonicio for the month of June. These talented artists will be sharing their Chilean culture through their exhibition of Chilean Fine Art and by presenting workshops and special events. Their time here will showcase their Chilean heritage and artistic inspirations.

Soledad has chosen solitude, silence and the light of the Atacama Desert as the source of inspiration for her work. The material used for her sculptural work is based on recovered iron objects found in the field, the beaches and the desert.

For Pablo painting is a metaphor of the universe, always being present and renovating itself. To paint is the desire to see beyond the immediate limits, it is like presenting a fragment of sky and set new coordinates.

This series of events is sponsored by the White Mountain Institute, a not-for-profit private foundation supporting creative endeavors to bring together leaders in art and medicine.

A Season of Brubeck - "To Dave with Gratitude"

Brubeck Brothers Quartet

Saturday, June 13, 7:30 p.m.

Gualala Arts Center
Coleman Auditorium

Doors open 7 p.m. $28 advance, $5 more day of performance

The Brubeck Brothers Quartet, aka BBQ, returns to the Gualala Arts Center at long last as an integral part of the 12th Annual Sonoma – Mendocino Coast Whale & Jazz Festival and A Season of Brubeck – “To Dave with Gratitude.” This dynamic performance will include a special tribute to the brothers’ revered father, who passed on in 2012 at age 92. This concert is also part of the Global Harmony Series in recognition of the Brubeck family’s life long commitment to encouraging global harmony by sharing America’s amazing jazz culture through their music and humanitarian activities.

The Quartet is an exciting jazz group featuring two members of one of America’s most accomplished musical families, Dan Brubeck, drums, and Chris Brubeck, bass and trombone. Guitarist Mike DeMicco and pianist Chuck Lamb complete this dynamic quartet.

BBQ has performed at concert series, colleges and jazz festivals across North America and Europe including the Newport, Detroit, Ravinia, Las Vegas, Sedona, Spokane & Monterey Jazz Festivals. Their hour-long concert at Sierra Nevada Brewery has been broadcast on the nationally syndicated program: “Sierra Center Stage.” Their new Koch release “Classified” has already earned this rave review from All About Jazz: “Once again the BBQ attains that rarefied level where music is both relaxed and expressive, and their joy in its creation is contagious. There’s really nothing out there that comes close to their unique brand of inventiveness.”

These versatile musicians also collaborate with orchestras, and in 2006 ignited the Salt Lake City Jazz Festival by playing with the Utah Symphony, conducted by Keith Lockhart. With Chris Brubeck’s compositions as a vehicle, the BBQ has joined with chamber groups to collaborate with musicians from the St. Paul Chamber Orchestra, the Philadelphia Orchestra and the Russian National Symphony Orchestra.

Although the quartet’s style is rooted in “straight-ahead” jazz, their concerts reveal an inherent ability to explore and play odd time signatures while naturally integrating the influences of funk, blues and world music. The group’s creativity, technique and improvisation can be heard in their uncompromising music, which reflects their dedication to melody, rhythm, culture and the spontaneous spirit of jazz.

Festival Music Coordinator Fred Adler of KTDE 100.5 FM will emcee this stirring concert.

SOUTH AMERICAN ADVENTURE

WITH NANCY AND NIK EPANCHIN

THURSDAY, JUNE 25, 2015 AT 7 P.M.

GUALALA ARTS CENTER COLEMAN AUDITORIUM

$5 AT THE DOOR

Nancy and Nik Epanchin will share tales and photos of their most recent South American adventure. Nancy and Nik are seasoned travelers. Nik has worked and traveled in over 70 countries and Nancy is not far behind. They have lived in France, South Africa, Gabon, Brazil and Argentina.

This adventure began in Cuzco, Peru where at 11,200 feet they acclimatized to the altitude. After several days, a predawn departure brought them to Piscacucho where at 8,440 feet they, their guide and an entourage of porters, began their hike on the Inca Trail. Four days later (the highest point crossed was Dead Woman's Pass at 13,800 feet) they passed through the Sun Gate, entrance to the world renown Inca site known as Machu Picchu, now a world heritage site.

Next they traveled to Quito, Ecuador, where they joined 13 other travelers, a guide and a naturalist and then flew to the Galápagos. In Baltra they boarded a 16-passenger ship, the Tip Top IV, and spent fifteen days sailing among and visiting 14 of the Galápagos Islands. Their days were spent hiking among giant tortoises, blue- and red- footed boobies, frigate birds and land and marine iguanas, snorkeling with sea lions marine iguanas and sea turtles and viewing geological formations, wildlife and mangroves from pangas (a type of small boat).

GLOBAL HARMONY SERIES NEEDS YOU!

As with all Gualala Arts programs and events, the Global Harmony Series cannot survive without the generous support of its donors, benefactors and volunteers. We need your help in supporting two upcoming events, Home Stays on July 19 and culinary help throughout the year.

The acclaimed Finnish choir Vox Aurea is coming to the Gualala Arts Center on Sunday, July 19. The choir is made up of around 35 singers, and we need to find places for ALL of them to stay for the night of July 19. People offering to provide home stays for the choir members would be asked to pick up and drop off their guests at the Gualala Arts Center. If you have a room or two, or even can offer up a whole house, please let us know. Call David "Sus" Susalla at (707) 884-1138 or send him an email at Sus@GualalaArts.org.

The Gualala Arts interest group Art Edibles will be using the donated Chilean food and drink to prepare appropriate appetizers for the Chilean Fine Art exhibit opening on Friday, June 5 and could use some extra chefs, sous chefs, prep cooks or anyone with an interest in creating food art to help. They also need volunteers for the many other Gualala Arts events that include food, such as the Brubeck Brothers Quartet concert, Top Hat Dinner, exhibit openings, Gualala Arts Theater performances, etc. Please contact Laura Leigh at (707) 882-2983.

Sharon Nickodem's work is distinguished by the variety of ways in which she uses the images that she captures with her camera. Alternative ways to process her pictures such as digital infrared capture, mixed-media collage and the use of unusual substrates such as clay, canvas and fabric especially appeal to her.

Jan Maria Chiappa's clay work blurs that often highly contested line between fine and functional art. The coast and its unique shapes and textures have informed her work. She creates pieces for the garden and home.

Gualala Arts Young Artist Scholarship Award

Gualala Arts awarded this year's Young Artist Scholarship to Joshua James Riboli, a graduating senior from Point Arena High School. He presented the committee with his portfolio of the art work that he created while in high school and shared his plans for continuing his pursuit of art related education as he graduates and heads to college.

"We are delighted to be able to provide a scholarship for this excellent student who is pursuing careers in the arts," said Gualala Arts Scholarship Committee Chair Nancy Kyle. "Joshua is a very qualified applicant with a strong work ethic and has explored a wide variety of artistic media."

Riboli has been very active in the community and has completed over 300 volunteer hours. He has been accepted at Cabrillo Community College in Aptos, CA where he plans to take courses in the visual arts as well as guitar and song writing. His goals include creating designs for a clothing line, exploring song writing and pursuing a career in the visual arts.

Wine Tasting & Auction

HUGE Thanks to all Wine Tasting & Auction donors, sponsors, volunteers & guests!

Every year the Wine Tasting & Auction just gets bigger, better and more fun and this year was no exception. Over 450 guests came and sampled great wines from our Pouring Wineries and made winning bids on the 105 silent auction lots. This signature event couldn't happen without the dedication of the committee, the support of the wineries and other businesses that donate their products and services to the event, the partnership with Soroptimist International of Mendocino-Sonoma Coast (SIMC) and of course the many volunteers that work so tirelessly before, during and after the event.

The Workshop Committee Can Use Your Skills

Anyone interested in dusting off those old great business skills such as attention to detail, strong telephone communications, and the ability to coordinate and share information within a small team? If so, you are needed to help the Gualala Arts Workshop Committee run itself. We are looking for someone to handle the administrative tasks needed to seek and secure workshops. With a Workshop Committee team identifying the desired artists in the mediums we'd like to offer in our Arts Center workshops and Gualala Arts staff providing the implementation support, we just need a "middle-person" to handle the "seek and secure" processes associated with presenting the workshops.

If you'd like to test the waters and attend a Workshop Committee meeting please join us on the first Thursday of each month (call to confirm time). A written summary of job tasks is also available for review. If interested please contact Susan King at (707) 884-1138 or email your request or questions to Info@GualalaArts.org. You can also feel free to contact any of the Workshop Committee Members directly: Bruce Jones, Jeanne Henderson, Karen Tracy or Judy Pfeifer.

A Message from the Executive Director . . .

And the beat goes on . .

We have a very special opportunity to share the magic between Father and Son this month. On June 13 we are having the Brubeck Brothers Quartet play at Gualala Arts Center honoring their father Dave Brubeck. This is a great example of how the amazing legacy of Dave Brubeck is truly living on in those he has touched. Not only are his sons accomplished musicians; they are carrying on his special ability to connect with the audience and bring magic to the air so everyone in the room is participating.

Chris, Dave and Dan Brubeck

My father and I used to listen to the music of Dave Brubeck, Buddy Rich, Glenn Miller and many others. I will always remember how the music brought us together and set a platform for us to have special conversations.

I am firm believer that we touch those around us with our actions, words, art, food, conversations and love. I also believe that our spirits live on, after we transition, with those around us in memories and carrying on those traits we love so much.

Please join me this year in remembering someone who has moved you and try to carry on those positive traits you loved in that person.

As my dad used to say, “And the beat goes on . . .”
