EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

*Groundbreaking April 1996, L-R:
Warren Radford, Don Donaldson,
Nick Makris, Alan Coleman,
Bill Ackerman, Paul Styskal.*

"I'll Be There"

Three words but it is much more than that. Barry Weiss, current president of Gualala Arts uses these 3 words as his go-to response when I approach with, well, most everything!

Gualala Arts mission since 1961 is promoting public interest and participation in the arts. Barry takes the "participation" very seriously and believes it is the key to our success. I have to agree with Barry and when I heard him say those 3 words for the first time, it really rang a bell inside of me.

Are you going to be able to help volunteer at the Art Opening?

I'll be there!

Are you entering Art in the Redwoods?

I'll be there!

We have a major fund drive to replace the roof this fall. Are you able to give a little extra this year?

I'll be there!

Are you entering a car to the auto show this year?

I'll be there!

Have you ever thought about leaving a legacy for Gualala Arts in your estate planning?

I'll be there!

Are you coming to the Hats Off dinner fundraiser?

I'll be there in spirit, enclosed is my donation.

Are you going to help stuff Sketches this month?

I'll be there!

I hope we can count on you. We NEED you and YOU make a difference!

I'll be there!

Obviously, one cannot "be there" for all requests. But, it is the I'll be there attitude that Barry embraces that enables us to thrive. Three words can make such a difference in your life and the community we all decided to create together.

Every time you say those words you truly do make a difference. So often in life it seems like things can be overwhelming, time is running short and how are we ever going to pull this off?

Well, time and time again, we do it together for the benefit of the whole. Our selfless acts of kindness, passion for the arts, hard work and generosity is what has kept Gualala Arts going since 1961, built the arts center in 1998 and is what keeps our doors open to all forms of arts, welcomes our entire community and will continue the arts alive and thriving in perpetuity.

Hope to see you around this summer! I'LL BE THERE!

Harald Eric Nordvold: Ceramics CC Case: "Nudes and More"

Born in San Francisco, the son of immigrants from Norway and South Africa, Harald Eric Nordvold's family moved to Sonoma County when Nordvold was a teenager. He attended Santa Rosa Junior College and went on to earn a BA in art at Sonoma State College focusing on researching and experimenting with clays and glaze formulas. He has taught classes at Santa Rosa Junior College and Mendocino Art Center and his work is in many private collections.

Nordvold believes one of the most beautiful functions of pottery is to display flowers, inspiring him to make vases of many different shapes, sizes and colors, including his trademark "pinholders," which are made to hold just one or a few stems. All of the pieces in this show, with the exception of the raku work, are high fired to 2400 degrees F, which creates a vitrified piece that is sturdy and completely safe for food, microwave and dishwasher uses.

A native of upstate New York, CC Case always considered art a central force in her life. She graduated from Elmira College in New York State and went on to work in the field of graphic design in northern New Jersey for several years. She lived for a year in the British Virgin Islands doing volunteer work, calligraphy and illustration and after that determined she would find a way to live by the ocean permanently. After retiring from teaching Case moved to Paradise and then Gualala.

Figure drawing is the form of art that currently absorbs and inspires Case the most and this exhibit features drawings in charcoal, sometimes with the addition of pastel, all drawn from live models during the weekly life drawing sessions at Gualala Arts. Says Case, "the human body is fascinating in its infinite variety—the unclothed figure presents complexities and challenges in depicting proportion, movement, texture, and the interplay of light and shadow in a believable way."

Case and Nordvold met at Art In The Redwoods at Gualala Arts in 2011. They married two years later and this is their second joint exhibit at the Dolphin.

John Simon Burnett: "Selected Works"

Ralph Jackson: "Porsche Psychosis"

Gualala Arts is pleased to present two exhibits in July, with a theme complimenting the 11th Annual Gualala Arts Auto Show. An opening reception for the John Simon Burnett, the Sharkwerks Group and Ralph Jackson is set for Friday, July 12, 2019, from 5 pm to 7 pm. The artists' work will be on display from July 5 through July 28, 2019.

In the Burnett Gallery is the exhibit "Porsche Psychosis: gearheads & mad scientists", which includes the history of local builder and driver Ralph Jackson and the team at SharkWerks, Inc. Sharkwerks is owned by long-time Porsche enthusiast Alex Ross (Sharky) and mechanical wizard James Hendry, successful entrepreneurs Joan Wood & Daniel Kennedy who live, breathe, own and drive Porsches.

In the Elaine Jacob Foyer will be "Selected Works" by artist John Simon Burnett. Below is Burnett's "Saratoga Landscape No. 3", 1997, a 42" x 60" oil on canvas.

Both exhibits — Ralph Jackson's "Porsche Psychosis: gearheads and mad scientists" and John Simon Burnett's "Selected Works"—will be on display from July 5 - 28, 2019.

Gualala Arts Auto Show

Celebrating 11 years of Hot Cars in the Cool Redwoods

If you are a car enthusiast and love the nostalgia of old cars, the sound and fury of dragsters, the art of hot rods, customs, and modifieds, looking at original cars you lusted after in your youth, and/or rare and unusual contemporary automobiles, you'll love the Gualala Arts Auto Show. This year's show is set for Saturday, July 20 from 10 am to 4 pm. Located on the beautifully landscaped grounds of the Gualala Arts Center, this is a car show you can actually stroll through, talk to the owners and appreciate each car, truck or motorcycle for the piece of art it is. We're laying down the redwood raceway for the 11th Annual Gualala Arts Auto Show!

If this sounds good and you want to be a part of this you still have time to register. Registration forms are available online under the EVENTS menu at GualalaArts.org, or by stopping by Gualala Arts. If you have the car (or truck or motorcycle) don't wait. Register now!

As happens every year, car enthusiasts will gather in the Arts Center parking lot to show off their vehicles, swap stories and marvel at all the classic cars. Vehicles will be judged for best Custom/Modified, Hot Rod, Sports Car, Stock, and Trucks with special awards for Ladies' Choice, Judge's Awards, People's Choice and others. The show is not juried and trophies are awarded.

Eric Wilding will be on hand offering face-painting for the kids, auto art and caricatures. While walking among the cars and trucks and talking with owners, you'll find food and drink available for purchase. Tanya Radtkey of Black Oak Catering will be offering food for breakfast, BBQ, and pizza from Gualala Arts' outdoor wood-fired pizza oven. Beer, wine, and soft drinks will also be available for purchase.

By the way, Gualala Arts is looking for volunteers to make this event the success it has been in the past. The Auto Show committee is currently seeking volunteers for workshops, day-of registration, food service, tech specifications, track set up, and race day helpers.

17th Annual Summer Chamber Music Weekend with Roy Bogas & Friends

This summer's programs are focused on the music of Ernest Bloch, the great 20th century composer, whose family (granddaughter Sita Milchev and great-granddaughter Lucienne Allen) still live in Gualala. In addition, Roy Bogas is one of Bloch's devoted students and knows his music thoroughly and loves it very much. Some audience members will recognize the Piano Quintet, but the Concerto Grosso will be new to them, as it is only possible to play it here in a new arrangement for this small group, as it is originally written for chamber orchestra with many more parts. As Bloch was deeply influenced by the music of J.S. Bach, we will play some Bach to show the kinship between the two composers.

On Saturday, July 13, a Bach chorale prelude will precede three cello works by Bloch: the Prayer and Supplication from his suite "from Jewish Life" plus the dynamic Nigun, all played by outstanding cellist Peter Wyrick. As a contrast, the group's first violinist Cordula Merks will play the Rumanian Folk Dances by Bartok and after intermission he group will present the epic Piano Quintet by Bloch, a work of great intensity and saga-like proportions.

Sunday's concert will begin with three hauntingly beautiful works by Bach, including the Prelude from the Sixth Suite for cello alone, also played by Peter Wyrick. This will be an introduction to the Concerto Grosso by Bloch, which is in a style very different from the Piano Quintet. It is a semi folksy style reminiscent of Bach and quite audience friendly. Roy will introduce each of the works played and indicate what to listen for. After intermission, they will play the famous "Trout" Quintet by Franz Schubert, which features, among other things, a double bass and a set of variations on the song "Die Forelle" ("the Trout"), one of Schubert's best loved melodies.

The weekend's events are being co-chaired by Bloch's great-granddaughter Lucienne Allen, who is curator of the Bloch Archives and will oversee an exhibit of photographs from the collection.

Local Eyes Presents
"Mountain Lions as Our Neighbors"
with Matt Nelson

In recent years local residents have noted frequent sightings of mountain lions along the Mendonoma coast, so Matt Nelson's talk on this fabled feline might not only be entertaining, it may also provide information that can come in handy when walking on local trails. Nelson will present some interesting findings he has uncovered and share his insights into the behavior of this animal. A native of Annapolis, Nelson brings his expertise and clear love of what he does to Gualala Arts' Coleman Hall on Thursday, July 18, 2019, at 7 pm. Tickets are $5 in advance, plus $5 at the door.

From the Arctic to the Antarctic, this simple traveler has left footprints in search of authenticity in his life. Slow to learn and insistent on the hardest of life's lessons, Matt Nelson is a generalist in the true sense of the word. Easily bored, Matt has worked more jobs than can be listed here, searching for himself amid all the glittery promises of the materialistic culture he grew up in. A lifetime hunter and woodsman, Matt strives to share his deep observations and his love for all things wild and true freely amongst his human interactions and in his teaching.

Matt holds a Senior Tracker certificate from Cybertracker Conservation, is a track and sign evaluator with the same organization and has worked on numerous wildlife and research projects, including the Gualala River Watershed council, the Garfield/Mesa Lion project, and the East Bay Puma Project. He currently resides in the beautiful coastal Mendonoma mountains where he was raised. More information can be found on the web at RedwoodCoastAnimalTracking.com.

Nelson will also discuss the habits of the mountain lion and has given some thought to why sightings seem more prevalent in recent years. He attributes the upsurge to factors such as population growth and human encroachment on wildcat territory. But he thinks many encounters are not with enfeebled older cats looking for easy prey, but with curious juveniles not yet wary of people.

PPQG Art In The Redwoods: "Flying Free" is the 2019 Raffle Quilt

Beautiful butterflies decorate this year's Art in the Redwoods raffle quilt, "Flying Free". Their colors and shapes remind us of just why we look in our garden or to the sky, perhaps longing for flight or simply taking pleasure in their grace and beauty.

Once again we are blessed to have a beautiful quilt to enjoy between now and the drawing of the winning raffle ticket at Art In The Redwoods later this summer. (The quilt measures approximately 70" x 80".)

Each year, members of Pacific Piecemakers Quilt Guild (PPQG) create a full-size quilt for the festival raffle, proceeds of which help to fund the Gualala Arts Young Artist Scholarship. Raffle tickets are available at Gualala Arts Center and the Dolphin Gallery and inside this issue of Sketches (between pages 8 and 9).

The quilt was pieced by Jan Carter and Dee Goodrich and was quilted by Judy Riddle.

The quilt (a sample image is above and a full image here) is on display at Gualala Arts Center through August 18, the last day of the festival, at which time it will be raffled off to a lucky winner! Raffle tickets are $5 each, 3 for $10, or 7 for $20 at the Arts Center. Winner need not be present to win. Tickets can be purchased from now until 3 pm August 18.

This workshop is meant to bring you up against this tendency towards unity, and challenge you to expand towards variety. Working in acrylics, collage, and drawing media, we will create many studies at a small scale to explore variety and contrast.

"Fabric, sewing, clothing construction and quilting have been focal points in my life except when work got in the way. Quilting is still a love of mine but I do like working outside the block. Clothing construction is also a love of mine and provides me one more aspect of 'outside of the block'. I have found that a simple sweatshirt provides a loose fitting jacket. I aim to create a very wearable article of clothing that has a unique and timeless look."- Kalynn Oleson
