

Gualala Arts Indoors Music Performances

At Gualala Arts, the health and safety of our guests, artists, staff and volunteers always comes first. With this in mind, Gualala Arts will follow the most recent state and local safety requirements. These governmental health and safety regulations, in this collective effort to put the pandemic behind us, may still be subject to change. Accordingly, we are unable to guarantee, in advance, the exact protocols you may be required to follow on the date of your ticketed performance. We will keep patrons informed via the website or weekly eSketches with any new mandate or protocol. Please make sure you are receiving our emails and continue to check this event's webpage for the most up-to-date protocols before arriving at Gualala Arts Center. We rely on your patience and your trust.
